Entity Name	Entity Definition
h_0001_party	Contains all Parties that can play a role on an Agreement. Originally created for "client-type" parties that can play various roles (e.g. Assured, Owner, Payer) on a Financial Services Agreement only. But this hub had to be used for other parties as well (i.e. Intermediaries and Employees) in the various sources (e.g. SanPay) where is it not possible to split these parties into the relevant Employee and Intermediary hubs. Business rules are required to idetnify the various Party Types and will only be performed in the relevant BV's. This hub therefore contains all types or parties that can play a role on many types of agreements (e.g. Financial Services Agreement and Intermediary Agreement).
h_0002_intermediary	Intermediary (intmed): Contains all Intermediaries that can sell Sanlam products. Can be an individual adviser or broker or a Bluestar business or a Brokerage.
h_0004_fs_agreement	Financial Services Agreement (fsa):
h_0005_intermediary_agreement	Intermediary Agreement (ia): An agreement that describes the contract type that an intermediary has with Sanlam in which permissions, permits, start and end dates, commission details and benefit structures are captured and described. Example: The agreement stipulates whether or not an Intermediar may sell a specific product or not.
h_0006_fsa_member	Financial services agreement (FSA) member. The various Parties that can play various Roles on a FSA are also sometimes referred to as Members, and a sequence number are usually assigned to each unique Member-Role combination on a FSA. The use of the Member details are most prevalent in the Underwriting data and this hub was spcifically created for a legacy comination of FSA-Member (without the Role number) to cater for a legacy CIM proxy vault for the CDH Customer 2 solution. It should not be used widely.
h_0007_role	Contains roles that Parties can play on a financial services agreement. Examples include: PlanHolder, Investor, Pseudo-Beneficiary, Annuitant, Payee, Previous Owner, Previous Payor, Life Assured, Trustee etc.
h_0008_fund	Contains funds into which investment and savings money are managed. Semantically equivalent to the the overall fund family that excludes the seriesno (i.e. fee classes or tax structures linked to individual funds within a fund family).
h_0009_fsa_endorsement	Financial Services agreement endorsement. This hub represents the savings/investment components on a plan. The name "endorsement" is used since the hub includes the instructions on how the savings component should be handled i.e. for a Plan, a set of contributions which have the same methods for charging, commission, clustering (i.e. segmentation) transfer and payment.

h_0010_product	This refers to the product that can be included in a financial services agreement. A Product can only offer one main benefit, but may in addition offer related benefits such as life assurance and waiver of premium.
h_0011_fsa_coverage_benefit	Financial Services Agreement Coverage Benefit (fsa_cb): Contains the coverage / risk benefits linked to a fs-agreement. Often simply referred to as "Benefits" in the business. The hub grain includes the fs-agreement, and therefor contains the "benefit holdings" of all fs-agreements. Coverage benefit xamples include: FSC2 (Funeral benefit), IS4 (Sickness Income Benefit) etc.
h_0013_fsa_cbdetail	Financial Services Agreement Coverage Benefit Detail (fsa_cbdetail): Refers to various features that can be associated with a risk benefit on a fs-agreement. e.g.: Basic Cover, Disability (Permanent), Disability (Temporary), Voluntary Loading (Head and back), Pre-retirement option, Retrenchment, Hospital Booster)
h_0014_mp_agreement	Money Provision Agreement. An agreement on which the arrangement under which regular premiums will be collected for on one or many fs-agreements by which regular payments will be made by the client.
h_0015_fsa_cbdetail_mp	Financial Services Agreement Coverage Benefit Detail: Individual premium elements that make up the total premium for the risk / coverage benefit.
h_0016_pid	Conformed party identifier for parties coming from different source systems. This key is generated in the CDH BV as part of the Party Matching process.
h_0017_conformed_role_cdh	CDH BV: a BV hub in which the relationships found in the 5008, 5009 and 5010 links across multiple different product platformeds are conformed roles for further use in the BV processes. name : bh_0017_conformed_role_cdh

h_0031_tranche	Tranche: This is a Epsilon-specific hub that captures the tranches. A tranche is a premium related event which can be seen as a slice or version of the policy at each point of premium change. A Tranche record is created for a plan at new business and any other point at which the plan premium or cover amount is changed e.g. increase (adhoc or auto escalation), decrease, rating (re-underwriting). It identifies the particular variation or collection of variations that may occurred on the plan during one collective variation 'event' or 'slice'. (Tranche is derived from the French word for 'slice'). For the implementation for Sanlam Release 5, a single business transaction will result in only one Tranche being created. In the event collective actions occur in one Tranche (such as combined alterations for Matrix products), the actions related to the Tranche will be recorded in related tables and all have the same TrancheID as Foreign key. The 'trusted query' principle of a Tranche is that the Tranche record and any significant columns (ie those owned by the original transaction) of its' FK stamped records will remain intact and untampered after the original Tranche record is finalised. Later transactions will be allowed to populate columns on prior Tranches or related tables where those columns are reserved for that later transaction, so as to serve such advantage as e.g. record access optimization.
